

Information and Data Architecture Training

Learn to apply key information architecture techniques

Develop the ability to use Information Architecture (IA) techniques. Learn how to apply an architecture perspective to address typical stakeholder concerns about information and data management. Understand how Information Architecture contributes to Strategy. Recognize the architectural challenge for data management and position related information assets in the information landscape. Contextualize data management within business operations and apply data-centric principles to detach data from applications.

Training days

Every training day starts at 9 AM and ends at 1 PM (Brussels Time). For this training, the self-paced learning period starts two weeks earlier on August 24th. The training days for this course are:

- Wednesday, September 7th
- Wednesday, September 14th
- Monday, September 19th
- Thursday, September 29th

TYPE

General training

LOCATION

Online

DATE

September 2022

DURATION

3 days

INTERESTING FOR

Enterprise Architects, Solution Architects

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- How to represent the Information Architecture landscape within the company
- Help with analyzing the concerns about the Information Architecture
- Address Information Architecture challenges

TRAINERS

Stéphane De Mesmaeker

Leo Slegheers

€ 2.445,00
Price per person